(a) whether Government are planning for massive growth in the petro-chemical sector;

(b) if so, whether Government are aware that petrochemical units in the country lack feedstock and this need to be made available to them at international prices, in order to become globally competitive;

(c) the steps Government have taken to supply important petrochemical feedstock; and

(d) the likely consumption of petrochemicals in India by the turn of the century as against the estimated production and availability in tonnes by the year 2,000 and in the manner in which this gap is likely to be filled up?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF CHEMICALS AND FERTILIZERS (SHRI EDUARDO FALEIRO): (a) As per the present industrial policy, most of the petrochemicals are delicenced and capacities can be set up. A few items are kept under licensing based on the criteria of hazard and safety. The Government has sanctioned a number of petrochemcial items which are under licensing.

(b) and (c) Petrochemical units use naphtha, LPG, Kerosene etc. as feedstocks. The policy on imports of feedstocks was liberalized recently and as of now the above feedstocks can be freely imported under OGL.* Government has also sanctioned additional refining capacities in the public sector as well as in private sector whereby the availability of the above feedstocks is expected to increase.

(d) The expected consupmtion of petrochemicals viz. Polymers, Synthetic Fibres & Intermediates by the year 2000 is over 70 lakhs against which the capacities planned are expected to be 63 lakh tonnes. The shortfall can be met from imports as all items are under OGL.*
